Dr. Christine Pohl

Christine Pohl is an associate provost and professor of social ethics at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., Pohl is known for her work on hospitality, most notably in her 1999 book, Making Room: Recovering Hospitality as a Christian Tradition. Her recent books include Living into Community: Cultivating Practices That Sustain Us and Friendship at the Margins: Discovering Mutuality in Service and Mission (co-authored with Christopher L. Heuertz).

Living into Communities' Format

The workshop schedule will include four sessions. Each session will include a presentation, conversation, and time for personal or group processing.

Schedule

Thursday, April 11, 2013

12 noon	Lunch in Garden Level
1:00	Session 1: Cultivating Gratitude as a Way of Life
2:30	Break
3:00	Session 2: Making and Keeping Promises in the Midst of Uncertainty

Friday, April 12, 2013

8:30 am	Session 3: Living Truthfully in a Culture of Spin
10:00	Break
10:30	Session 4: Recovering Hospitality When We're Wary of Strangers
12 noon	Conclude

Location: Western Theological Seminary
101 E. 13th Street, Holland, MI

To Register: www.westernsem.edu/journey/register
Questions? Go to westernsem.edu/journey
or contact Tara Macias at 616.392.8555, x133

Cost: $60 which includes lunch on Thursday
$75 after March 17, 2013

Dr. Christine Pohl

Christine Pohl is an associate provost and professor of social ethics at Asbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., Pohl is known for her work on hospitality, most notably in her 1999 book, Making Room: Recovering Hospitality as a Christian Tradition. Her recent books include Living into Community: Cultivating Practices That Sustain Us and Friendship at the Margins: Discovering Mutuality in Service and Mission (co-authored with Christopher L. Heuertz).

Living into Communities' Format

The workshop schedule will include four sessions. Each session will include a presentation, conversation, and time for personal or group processing.

Schedule

Thursday, April 11, 2013

12 noon	Lunch in Garden Level
1:00	Session 1: Cultivating Gratitude as a Way of Life
2:30	Break
3:00	Session 2: Making and Keeping Promises in the Midst of Uncertainty

Friday, April 12, 2013

8:30 am	Session 3: Living Truthfully in a Culture of Spin
10:00	Break
10:30	Session 4: Recovering Hospitality When We're Wary of Strangers
12 noon	Conclude

Location: Western Theological Seminary
101 E. 13th Street, Holland, MI

To Register: www.westernsem.edu/journey/register
Questions? Go to westernsem.edu/journey
or contact Tara Macias at 616.392.8555, x133

Cost: $60 which includes lunch on Thursday
$75 after March 17, 2013

WESTERN

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

JOURNEY CENTER FOR LEARNING

Living into Community

Christine Pohl at Western Theological Seminary
April 11-12, 2013

WESTERN

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

JOURNEY CENTER FOR LEARNING

Living into Community

Christine Pohl at Western Theological Seminary
April 11-12, 2013