Biblical Field

REQUIRED COURSES:

BL100 New Testament Greek I

Boelkins, Van Voorst, Brownson

An introduction to New Testament Greek vocabulary, grammatical forms, and sentence structure with a view to New Testament Greek as a resource for ministry.

BL101A New Testament Greek II

Boelkins, Van Voorst, Brownson

Continues BL100, with special emphasis upon syntax and translation. 1.5 cr

BL101B New Testament Interpretation

Boelkins, Van Voorst, Brownson

An introduction to the tools and principles required for the exegesis of the New Testament in its own linguistic, historical, and canonical context, as a foundation for interpreting the New Testament in a contemporary context. 1.5 cr Prereq: BL100, BL101A

BL102 New Testament Foundations

Brownson, Van Voorst

An introduction to the content, history, and theological dynamism of the writings of the New Testament, with a view to appropriating the message of the New Testament for today.

BL103 Old Testament Foundations

Boogaart, Bechtel

An introduction to the content, history, and theological dynamism of the writings of the Old Testament, with a view to appropriating the message of the Old Testament for today.

BL110 Biblical Hebrew I

Boogaart, West, Boelkins

An introduction to biblical Hebrew in its cultural context for those who seek to interpret the Bible faithfully and fully. Using multi-sensory and interactive approaches, students will learn the basic vocabulary, grammar, syntax and world view of the Old Testament.

BL111 Hebrew Translation & Interpretation

Boogaart, West, Boelkins

A continuation of BL110 which more fully engages interpretive and devotional approaches to Old Testament texts. Prereg: BL110

OLD TESTAMENT:

BL509 Conflict in the Created Order

Boogaart

This course will explore how the conflict between the ordering word of God and the disordering waters of the deep in the creation story is recapitulated in the narrative, prophetic, and wisdom literature. We will explore why Western Christians have tended to overlook this conflict, and how a deeper understanding of it can revitalize Christian communities.

BL513 Studies in Prophets

Boogaart

The role of prophets in Israelite society, their theology, and their impact on Western culture.

BL514 Seminar in Psalms

Bechtel

An exegetical study of selected psalms in the context of both the Old Testament and the larger canon of Scripture. Attention is also given to the role of the psalms in the liturgical, devotional, and theological life of the church. 1.5 cr

BL515 The Earth is the Lord's: An Agrarian Reading of the Bible

Bechtel

This course engages Scripture through the eyes of contemporary agrarian writers with a view toward finding more faithful ways to honor God's creation. The curriculum revolves around "conversations" with authors (Ellen Davis, Norman Wirzba, Wendell Berry, Wes Jackson) and practitioners who can help us think about the practical challenges and possibilities of honoring God's creation.

BL517 Wisdom Literature of the Bible

Bechtel

Explores the forms, vocabulary, and concepts of wisdom in the Bible, emphasizing Proverbs, Job, Song of Solomon, and Ecclesiastes. 1.5 cr.

BL520 Esther

Bechtel

A theological exposition of the book of Esther that looks to literary issues such as theme, character, and irony as guides for interpreting the book in the contexts of both the Old and the New Testaments. Originally intended as a model for life in the Jewish Diaspora, the book is a potentially important guide for Christians seeking to live faithful lives in a secular society. 1.5 cr

BL522 Old Testament Narratives

West/Boogaart

This course will explore the artistry, drama, and theology of Israelite storytelling. We will consider the cultural, historical, and theological context out of which these dramatic stories arose, and will discover their transforming power through performance. 1.5 cr

BL524 Ruth

Bechtel

A literary and theological exposition of the book of Ruth. Emphasis placed on improving Hebrew reading and on refining exegetical skills. 1.5 cr; Prereq: BL110

BL548 Pentateuch

A study of the first five books of the Bible. Examines the accounts of creation, the fall, Israel's ancestors, the exodus, and the giving of the Law. The class will explore theological issues such as the nature of God, human beings and the world, our covenantal relationship with God, and the presence of God in historical events

BL614 Hebrew Reading/Performance

West, Boogaart

Using memorization and movement as the primary tools of exegesis, students engage with one Old Testament narrative deeply for 14 weeks. This course builds on BL110 and BL111, deepening students' engagement with the oral nature of the Hebrew Bible. Pass/fail, 1.5 cr

BL616 Christianity and Literature

Rechtel

A study of the biblical and theological motifs in selected literature by both classical and contemporary authors. Emphasis is on the use/study of such works in ministry settings, as well as their relevance for those involved in leadership roles in the church.

BL617 Ordination of Women: Exploring Biblical Authority and Church Order

Brownson

In-depth biblical exegesis and focused theological and hermeneutical reflection around the ordination of women – in an attempt both to assist students to clarify their understanding of this particular issue and to provide handles and tools for wrestling with the use of Scripture in the ordering of the church's life more generally. A full range of views on the topic will be explored. 1.5 cr

BL618 Advanced Biblical Hebrew

West, Boogaart

Advanced learning in the language and theology of the Old Testament. Students develop a deeper understanding of grammar, syntax, and interpretation through hearing, speaking, and reading Hebrew, as well as memorizing and enacting biblical stories.

Prereg: BL110 & BL111

NEW TESTAMENT:

BL508 Revelation

This course studies the book of Revelation within its historical, political, and literary contexts. Particular emphasis will be placed on the apocalyptic nature of the work within the first century C.E. Additionally, it studies the impact this book has had on contemporary views on eschatology. Finally, students will examine the variety of ways that Revelation can be used in the church, including preaching, liturgy, and pastoral care.

BL529 The Gospel According to Matthew

Brownson

An overview of the theology and narrative shaping of the first gospel, using close readings of selected texts. Particular attention is paid to Matthew's vision for discipleship, the church, and Christian life and witness. Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B or equiv.

BL530 Letter to the Romans

Van Voorst

Introduction and overview of the letter, together with exegetical study of selected portions in Greek.

Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL532 The Gospel According to John

Brownson, Van Voorst

Considers important historical, literary, hermeneutical, and theological issues in the Gospel of John, with exegesis of selected passages in Greek.

Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL534-DL Reading Acts in its Contexts: Communities, Conflicts/Contemporary Church

Aaron Kuecker

This course will examine Acts in light of its varied social, political, and canonical contexts, with a particular emphasis on the Spirit's formation of the people of God. Students will undertake a close reading of the text of Acts and will consider the ways that Acts can help the contemporary church imagine communities of faith and practice that bear witness to the Triune God. Along the way, we will discover that Luke's account of the first decades of the Jesus movement, the only historical account of the life of the first century church, is a richly textured narrative theology that bears witness to the ascended Lord Jesus Christ who pours out the Spirit for the sake of creation. 1.5 cr

BL535 Interpreting the Parables

Brownson

A survey of recent approaches to interpreting the parables of Jesus provides the context for considering hermeneutical issues in preaching and teaching the parables. Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL537-DL Synoptic Gospels: Matthew, Mark and Luke

Pierce

This course studies Matthew, Mark and Luke and their cultural, historical and literary contexts. Students will also explore ways of using gospels in worship, preaching and teaching.

BL540 The Corinthian Correspondence

Brownson

An exploration of Paul's First and Second letters to the Corinthians, with particular attention to the interaction between pastoral engagement and theological reflection. Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL541 Letters to the Philippians and Galatians

Van Voorst

An exegetical study of two Pauline letters in light of modern interpretation, with attention to their use in modern theology and the preaching and teaching of the church. Selected Greek passages will be studied in depth. Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL542 General Epistles

Van Voorst

An overview of all the General/Catholic Epistles, with closer exegetical treatment of three of them. The epistles selected for closer treatment will vary, and key passages in them will be exegetically treated in Greek. Attention will be paid to the use of these epistles in the teaching and preaching of the church today. Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL545 Acts of the Apostles

This course explores the book of Acts within its historical, cultural, literary, and theological contexts. Students will read through the entire book, engaging sections of the text in Greek. Questions include: how did early Christians live and thrive in tension with the world around them, and how is their story significant to our own ministry in our contexts? Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL546 The New Testament and Christian Ministry

Van Voorst

This course seeks to synthesize vision for proclaiming and teaching the Gospel today through the study of selected texts and themes from the New Testament. These texts, studied in Greek, focus on the themes of unity and diversity of the Gospel message, the general ministry of the church in the New Testament, and special ministries in the New Testament. Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B or equiv.

BL547 The Bible, Gender, and Sexuality

Brownson

A survey of major biblical texts on sex and sexuality in general, with a view toward developing an overall framework for understanding biblical teaching on these themes. Within this overall framework, particular attention also will be given to exploring the questions of gender roles and homosexuality.

Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

BL613 Greek Reading

Brownson, Van Voorst

Maintains and enhances Greek language skills through weekly translation practice, and a study of intermediate Greek grammar. Pass/fail, 1.5 cr. Prereq: BL100, BL101A&B, BL102 or equiv.

Theological Field

REQUIRED COURSES:

TH100 Church History I

Voskuil

This course explores the life and witness of the church from the New Testament era to the Protestant Reformation.

TH101 Church History II

Voskuil

This course explores the life and witness of the church from the Protestant Reformation to the present.

TH112 Gospel, Culture, and Church

Hunsberger

An introduction to the church's self-understanding as a missional and eschatological community formed by the good news of Jesus Christ and made to be its living witness. The course seeks to cultivate a biblical-theological rationale for the existence of the church and for its mission, an appreciation for the historical, cultural, and contextual rootedness of the church, an understanding of the dynamic interaction between the gospel and human cultures, and a vision for what missional faithfulness requires of any church in its own time and place.

TH113 Systematic Theology I

Stubbs

This first course of the two course Systematic Theology sequence explores four major Christian doctrines: the doctrines of God, creation, humanity, and Christ. These expansive headings include many other matters of theological importance, including Trinity doctrine, divine attributes, creation, humanity, the image of God, sin, providence, covenant, Israel and the significance of the life, death, resurrection, and ascension of Christ. Readings will range from early church to contemporary sources.

TH114 Systematic Theology II

Billings

This course explores the doctrine of the Holy Spirit, salvation, church and sacraments. Exploring these expansive topics will include an examination of the work of the Spirit in the believing community, scripture and divine revelation, justification, sanctification, and the final judgment, as well as the theology of Word and Sacraments in the church. Readings will range from early church to contemporary sources.

TH121 Christian Ethics

Madison

This course explores how the theological vision of the Christian community expresses itself in specific intentions, practices, virtues, and actions and how Christian communities can grow in moral discernment.

TH124 Credo

Madison, Brouwer

In this senior seminar, students will write a theologically comprehensive statement of their Christian belief in conversation with their respective theological traditions. 1.5 cr. Prereq: CM121, TH112, TH114.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY:

TH450 RCA Standards

A survey of the Heidelberg Catechism, the Belgic Confession, the Canons of Dort, and the Belhar Confession designed to highlight distinctive elements of the Reformed tradition and to prepare RCA candidates for their ordination examinations. (MFCA) Prereq: TH113, TH114

TH528 From Scripture to Theology: Topical Readings in the Theological Interpretation of Scripture

Billings

This course seeks to bridge biblical studies and theology by focusing upon a key biblical and theological topic for examination. While the specific topic rotates, the course explores ways in which biblical and theological studies can be received in a complementary way, receiving the Bible as God's word for the church today.

TH551 Christology: Ancient and Contemporary Views of Jesus Christ

Stubbs

Jesus Christ is the center of Christianity, and yet there is a vast spectrum of views about him. This course claims that the ancient Nicene-Chalcedonian understanding of the incarnation, life, death, resurrection and ascension of Christ and their saving impact still should be at the center of our Christology as we move into the future. Readings will start with key pre- and post-Nicene theologians and move to contemporary authors in this tradition who also emphasize the Jewishness of Jesus, the cosmic and liberative implications of Christ's work, his relationship to the Spirit, and expansive understandings of his atoning work.

TH552 Karl Barth: Life and Theology

Stubbs

It is difficult to overestimate the importance of Barth's theology for contemporary Christian thought. Our course will include an overview of Barth's life and the forces that shaped it and his theology, and close readings of selections from his theological works. The student will gain a good overview of Barth's theological vision, his major contributions to theology and typical critiques of his thought.

TH576 Lesslie Newbigin's Theology for the Church in a Pluralist Society

Hunsberger

Explores the resources in the thought of missionary theologian Lesslie Newbigin for the life and witness of the church in our contemporary, pluralist society. The course will develop a theology of cultural plurality necessary for the engagement of the gospel with human communities, a grasp of its relevance to the church's life today in North America, and practical strategies for cultivating the habits of witness to which the church is called in such a place.

TH577 Global Christianity and the Mission of the Church

Voskuil

Explores how Christianity has become a global faith. Special attention is given to the developments in Asia and Africa where the Church has recently experienced explosive growth as well as tensions with Islamic cultures.

TH580 Theology of the Lord's Supper

Billings

Explores the biblical and theological dimensions of the Lord's Supper, with an eye for the renewal of the contemporary church. Readings draw from various Christian traditions and explore the Lord's Supper in relation to topics such as biblical foundations for eucharistic theology, the history of eucharistic theology, and the implications of the Supper for discipleship and the church's witness. 1.5 cr.

HISTORICAL THEOLOGY:

TH451 RCA History and Mission

Voskuil

Examines the development of the Reformed Church in the context of North America. Special attention devoted to the leaders, approaches, and philosophies of RCA missions. (MFCA)

TH502-DL Where are the Churches Going?

Wiley

This course will begin in study of Calvin's ecclesiology, and then go on to examine current movements among a number of Reformed denominations in the United States, critically analyzing current developments in light of Reformed convictions about the church. 1.5 cr

TH513 Theology and Social Movements

Dorsev

This course examines the relationship between social transformation and faith by studying some of the most significant social movements of the past 100 years. Through scholarly writings, literature and film we will explore the theological and ethical concerns involved in the efforts of groups to achieve a more just society. Particular attention will be given to how urban communities of faith conceive of and engage in social transformation. Notions of God's divine reign of justice; how the oppressed marshal spiritual resources; and the dichotomies between majority and minority perspectives will be central to the course.

TH515 Discipleship in a Secular Age

Husbands

Taking up W.H. Auden's claim that there is a great difference between "believing something still" and "believing something again" this course examines doubt and belief in the midst of a post-Christian West. A common attitude to Christianity is effectively captured in Emerson's remark: "I have no hostility to this institution" it's just that "I am not interested in it". Looking at sociology, literature, cultural analysis, discipleship, and the biblical foundations for the missional church, this course seeks to: understand why belief in a secular age is fragile and to offer a theologically compelling account of discipleship as missional engagement with the secular age. 1.5 cr

TH529 Early High Christology

The task of this class is to find a thread that connects the Jewish charismatic from Nazareth to the divine Lord confessed by early Christians. If it was so compelling, why was this early, Jewish Christology gradually lost in later generations of Christian theology? Students are invited to join the professor in exploring these questions. 1.5 cr. Prereq: TH113

TH530 Ante-Nicene Theologians

Analysis and seminar-style discussion of the Apostolic Fathers and other primary sources from the second and third centuries. The class will develop a methodology for reconstructing the context of the authors' theologies from the texts themselves. 1.5 cr

TH531 Early Christian Theologians

Analysis and seminar discussion of the writings of Saint Athanasius and other theologians of the fourth century. Topics include the Trinity, creation, Christology, and the Atonement. 1.5 cr

TH544 20th Century Theology: Major Figures and Theological Currents

Stubbs

Close readings of some of the "classic" works of 20th century theology by theologians such as Barth, Bonhoeffer, Cone, Gutiérrez, Lindbeck, Jones, deLubac, von Balthasar, Zizioulas and Hauerwas. We will highlight the place of these works in larger theological and cultural currents that shaped Christian thought in this tumultuous century.

TH567 Jesus in America

Voskui

This course examines how Jesus is portrayed in American culture, and how this portrayal of Jesus impacts the mission of the church.

TH568 Calvin's Theology and Its Reception

Rillings

Calvin's theology is not only central to the Reformed tradition, but continues to be the subject of vigorous theological discussion for theologians and pastors of many Christian traditions. After setting the context of Calvin's life and times, this course will examine select key theological ideas in Calvin's writings. The course will examine significant retrievals and prominent criticisms of Calvin's theology in order to assess its value for the church's life and ministry today.

TH588 The Life and Witness of Formation Judaism (70-700 CE)

Analysis and seminar style discussion of early Jewish literature, particularly as it relates to the New Testament and the developing rule of faith. We shall read some of the principal texts and discuss the development of ideas like the Shekhinah, the celestial temple, ascent to heaven, the pre-existence and survival of souls, the Aqedah. Students will also study the Jewish Prayer Book and create their own files of New Testament texts along with the Jewish texts that throw some light on them. 1.5 cr

TH618 Theological German

Inductive study of basic German grammar and syntax and of selected texts in contemporary German theology. (Offered on request.)

ETHICS:

TH527-DL Reformed and Ethical

Van Til

The course will include readings from major figures in ethics from the Reformed tradition, including, but not limited to Abraham Kuyper, H. Richard Niebuhr and Nicholas Wolterstorff. The goal is for you to set your ethical compass in light of what others in the Reformed tradition have done. 1.5 cr

TH545 Ecological Theology and Ethics

Steve Bouma-Prediger

An in-depth study of the nature and causes of current ecological degradation, the witness of Christian Scripture and the Christian theological tradition concerning matters ecological, the duties and responsibilities we humans have as earthkeepers, and the practical implications of living in a more earth-friendly way at home, at church, at work, at play.

TH546 War, Peace and Peacemaking

Stubbs

We will consider Christian views on war, peace and peacemaking. We will survey some of the key theological and biblical perspectives on war that have shaped the history of the church, look more carefully at various Christian responses to select wars and U.S. policies, and explore the thought and practices of Christian movements of peace and reconciliation.

TH547 The Moral Human Person

Stubbs

Perennial questions about "who are we" as human beings are complicated by Christian affirmations that we are sinful, we are called to do the good, and we are called to be holy. In this course we will explore Christian views of the person and our vocation as humans, including topics such as personhood and identity, the nature of sin, the image of God, and virtue theory.

TH554 Faith, Science and Technology

Madisor

In this course we will explore what it means to faithfully confess the world as creation in the context of modern science and technology. Biblically-rooted, the Christian doctrine of creation proclaims the world as intended, purposeful, orderly, and ultimately grounded in the love of Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Modern scientific descriptions of the world and rapidly changing modern technological developments offer both challenges and opportunites for Christian witness in both word and deed that all exists as God's good creation. 1.5 cr

TH566 God and Mammon

In this course, we will wrestle with biblical and theological foundations for thinking about economics and money, engage with different traditions of economic and political thinking within Christianity, and also engage with concrete examples of individuals, communities and organizations that are self-consciously engaged in these economic matters. The main goal is to equip students to lead the church in thinking through matters of economic justice and concrete church practices.

TH589 Theology of the Book of Numbers

Stubbs

This course seeks to bridge biblical studies and theology, focusing on the narratives and laws of the book of Numbers. Theological themes and issues treated include Israelite worship practices, the moral vision indicated by its laws, the idea of wilderness, stories of temptations and sin, war, the place of women, and its view of God. We will study the book with an eye to the impact this important Old Testament book has had on Judaism and the New Testament and might have on Christian theology and practice.

THEOLOGY:

TH514 Theology of the Word: God's Word as Divine Action

T.Billings

This course explores the surprising reality that God's speech is an action – that the Triune God is at work in and through the Word in the church and the world. Students will explore this issue in the doctrine of God and revelation with an eye toward renewing the church's ministry of word and sacrament. Readings will include works in biblical studies, historical theology, and contemporary systematic theology. TH 113 recommended but not required. 1.5 cr

TH553 Interreligious Witness and Dialogue

Hunsberger

In North America as well as the broader world, the church's life and witness plays out in multifaith social contexts. This course examines theological orientations for understanding religions and religious traditions and explores proposals for the church's approach to confident witness in a spirit of mutual hospitality and humility. 1.5 cr.

TH560 Kingdom of God: Theologies of Church & World

Dorsey

This theology seminar course explores themes associated with the relationship between church and world as they appear in the theological writings of select figures throughout the history of the Christian church. We will examine biblical and historical notions of the "Kingdom of God" as well as recent trends in global Christianity. A primary focus is on understanding how Christian theologians address questions about Christian responsibility for and/or in the world.

TH583 Public Theologizing: The Way of the Church with the World

Hunsberge

This course fosters the pastoral vision and competence necessary for leading the church to be faithful followers of the Way in the midst of the world. It explores the arenas of social life where the church's public theologizing takes form, the posture with which the church stands and the voice with which it speaks in public action and discourse, and the church's calling to be both a contrast community and a humble companion in public life. 1.5 cr

TH586 Issues in Contemporary Islam

An introduction to current debates in the study of Islam. Cultural practices, tradition, and belief will be explored. Gender and state politics, which involve the spiritual, intellectual and social life of Muslims in both public and private realms of their existence, are particularly important. This course is taught by a Christian anthropologist who is a former Muslim. The class will analyze historical and empirical forms that Islamic discourses and practice take, and will invite students to test and explore the truth-claims and worldviews presented in such discourses and practices. 1.5 cr

TH621 Apologetics in Post-Christian Culture

Voskuil

Helps students to interpret and commend the Christian faith in a non-Christian culture. If we are to be effective apologists today, we must have a clear understanding of and a firm conviction about the core beliefs of the Christian church, as well as a keen awareness of the cultures in which they are received and interpreted.

TH632 Introduction to the World's Religions

Van Voorst

An introduction to the beliefs and practices of the major religions of the world, with a study of their scriptural traditions. New religious movements such as Baha'i, The Unification Church, and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints ("Mormons") are also treated, paying special attention to their relationship to Christianity. The Christian theological response to other religions is also considered.

Christian Ministry Field

CORE REQUIREMENTS:

MN100 Worship Foundations

Rozeboom

This course is an exploration of the biblical and theological foundations of Christian worship. 1.5 cr

MN101 Preaching Foundations

Rienstra

First-year students explore and grasp a biblical and Reformed vision of preaching. Includes a sermon preparation workshop and a "lab" in which written and preached sermons are carefully analyzed by faculty and peers. Significant homiletical concerns are presented, discussed, clarified, and applied to the task of preaching.

MN102 Practice of Discipleship

G. Brown

Jesus commanded his followers to make disciples. In this course, learners will explore how Christian practices have shaped them into disciples and learn how to use these practices in the making of 21st century disciples. The course will include opportunity to practice these skills in a teaching church or the studio setting of a learning lab.

MN105 Pastor as Person

This course explores the ways in which a minister's life history, spiritual growth, and vocation intersect and shape his/her personal and professional identity. Students will reflect on their own psychological and spiritual development and their opportunities for personal growth. They will develop their own particular plans for self-care. 1.5 cr

MN107 The Urban Christian

DeGroat

In this course, students will explore the challenges and opportunities that Christians face in an increasingly globalized and urbanized world. The United Nations projects that 70% of the world's population will be urban by 2050, so this is a time of urgency for the church. Implications of the urban context for many issues, including work, family life, education, sexual ethics, evangelism, and more will be explored. 1.5 cr

MN108 The Urban Church

This course will explore the components of a missional ecclesiology for the city, with implications for preaching, worship, spiritual formation, and discipleship. The urban church's involvement in social justice, faith and work, church planting, and other important opportunities for engagement will be explored. The urban environments of North America will be the cultural context for this course.

MN115 Practice of Counsel and Care

In this introductory course, students explore giving counsel and offering care as ministers of Word and sacrament. They develop an understanding of the fundamental principles of pastoral care and acquire basic skills required for giving counsel and offering care. Numerous pastoral themes are addressed in lectures, learning labs, and small group interaction. Students will be encouraged to develop their own pastoral presence in offering counsel and care.

MN117 Urban Church Planting

In this course, students will explore the unique dynamics of new church development in urban and secular contexts. These contexts require re-thinking communicating the Gospel, forming and leading a worship service, leadership development, faith and vocation, and much more. While exploring the unique features, students will also experience a mini church planting assessment, which exposes them to the rigorous assessment process which would be required later, the personality and leadership features necessary, and the complex realities of reaching a more skeptical missional context.

MN120 Leadership

Small

An introduction to the theory and practice of Christian leadership from a missional and theological perspective. A course for seniors.

MN122 Church Revitalization in the Urban Context

Students will explore church revitalization in both a general context and in the specific context of the city. Key issues of revitalization – including leadership, cultivating change, worship for revitalization, navigating conflict, challenges of context, evangelism, and more – will be explored through readings, discussion, and case studies.

MN124 Practice of Worship and Preaching

Rienstra

This course invites students to deepen their theological understanding of both preaching and worship while they practice the crafts employed in these two of the Church's most central tasks. Preaching multiple times for their peers, and receiving collegial feedback, students will be invited to explore various homiletical styles and to strengthen their skills in sermon design and delivery and assessment. Students will also be encouraged to develop their capacity to prepare creative and faithful worship services that have cultural, pastoral and theological integrity. We will particularly consider practical issues surrounding sacramental celebrations and the use of music, media, and the arts in worship.

MN126 Assessment for Urban Ministry

Using a variety of assessment tools, students will explore their style of relating, connecting, leading, and goal-setting in an urban, secular setting. Students will take what they learn about themselves from these tools and sharpen their call to ministry. The particular skills and challenges of ministry in an urban setting will be explored in readings, discussions, and case studies. 1.5 cr.

DUAL TRACK MASTER OF DIVINITY-MASTER OF SOCIAL WORK:

MN331 Dual Track Cohort Group

Swie

Cohort group meets bi-weekly during the first year of the Dual Track degree program. 1.5 cr

MN332 Dual Track Cohort Group

Swier

Cohort group meets weekly during the second year of the Dual Track degree program. 1.5 cr $\,$

MN333 Dual Track Cohort Group

Swier

Cohort group meets online during the third year of the Dual Track degree program. 1.5 cr

MN334 Dual Track Cohort Group

Swier

Cohort group meets online during the fourth year of the Dual Track degree program. 1.5 cr

PASTORAL CARE AND COUNSELING:

MN502 Spiritual Formation in an Urban, Secular Context

This course will introduce the student to the unique challenges of soul care and formation in an increasingly secular culture. Using the urban context of San Francisco as a backdrop, we will look at shaping issues such as affluence and greed, technology, sexuality, addiction, and more. Exploring the similar context of the early church, we'll see that ancient catechesis provides a strikingly relevant invitation to formation and discipleship in today's increasingly urbanized and secularized world.

MN513 Basic Clinical Pastoral Education

A pastoral ministry practicum that integrates the theory and practice of ministry in a clinical setting with special attention given to the person in ministry. A basic practicum accredited by the Association for Clinical Pastoral Education. 6 cr

MN513N Basic Clinical Pastoral Education - non-accredited

A pastoral ministry practicum that integrates the theory and practice of ministry in a clinical setting with special attention given to the person in ministry. Ministry is not completed in an accredited CPE setting. 6 cr

MN527 Ministry at the End of Life

Floding

Provides a broad introduction to the privilege of ministry at the end of life. Considers practical issues such as the dying experience, pastoral care of the dying, partners in ministry, the funeral sermon and worship service, and bereavement ministry. Students will examine the theology and ethics surrounding the end-of-life and look at the social history of death in America. Equips Christian caregivers with knowledge and skills for effective ministry to the dying and their loved ones. 1.5 cr

MN599 Jesus: Truly Human

This psychology of religion course explores the ways the human nature of Jesus has been understood. Psychology of religion consists of the application of psychological methods and interpretive frameworks to religious traditions, as well as to both religious and irreligious individuals. The discipline attempts to accurately describe the details, origins, and uses of religious beliefs and behaviors.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION:

MN530 Christian Formation in Gospel Communities

This course is designed for those contemplating pastoral ministry or educational ministry in a congregational context or Gospel community. Themes include designing and implementing education programs, evaluating and selecting curriculum resources, exploring emerging models of faith formation, and the pastor as teacher.

MN531 Christian Formation of Children and Youth

This elective course focuses on the education and faith formation of youth and children. Attention will be given to the family and intergenerational settings as contexts for faith formation, as well as the faith development of children and youth.

MN532 Education and Christian Formation with Adults

Teaching and learning with adults in a variety of contexts and settings requires a working knowledge of appropriate teaching methods and an understanding of the characteristics of emerging adults, young adults, adults in middle adulthood, and older adults.

MN541 Equipping for Social Justice

This course focuses on equipping congregations and Gospel communities for witness in a world deeply marked by injustice and violence. Identifying pressing social issues, understanding the dynamics of transformative learning, and equipping congregations and Gospel communities to develop and implement relevant responses to human need. Learners will be given an opportunity to focus on a specific issue. 1.5 cr

MN571 Youth Ministry and Practical Theology: Are We Practicing What We Preach?

Schoon-Tanis

This course will cover a range of topics including the history of youth ministry, cultural trends, and the role of practical theology in youth ministry in North America. This course will take a big-picture approach with a hands-on application.

WORSHIP AND PREACHING

MN451 Worship (RCA)

Drawing from Scripture and Reformed confessions and liturgies, and in sympathetic discussion with a wide range of other worshiping traditions, this course will present, discuss, clarify, and apply a Reformed vision of worship to congregational settings in the RCA in the United States and Canada. 3 cr (MFCA)

MN506 Models of the Sacraments

Rozeboon

Baptism and the Lord's Supper are richly layered with meaning as they rehearses for us the whole of salvation history, creation to re-creation. The Christian tradition speaks of these biblical-theological meanings in a variety of ways. This course explores the richness of this variety, including Baptism as a covenant seal, a sign of forgiveness, and as a dying and a rising, and the Lord's Supper as a memorial, a sacrifice, and an eschatological meal. There will be practical liturgical emphasis as we explore how these layers of meaning interact with the themes of the Christian Year. In this way, we will set our hearts and minds on renewing congregational celebration of the sacraments, as participants and presiders.

MN509 Writing Outside the Sermon: Devotionals, Blogs, and Articles

Adam Navis

Conversations of faith have moved. They are less likely to happen after church and over coffee than they are to happen at all hours of the day and over the Internet. In this course we will examine writing that pastors can (and should) be engaged in other than sermons. Culminating in the production of a week's worth of devotionals, we will also look at how blogs can both enhance a ministry and be a ministry. However you assess your skills as a writer, this course is for you. Just be prepared to do a lot of writing and editing. Some topics covered: Christianity and the Creative life, People, listen to me! vs. People listen to me?, Getting your blog read by more than family, trends in devotional publishing. 1.5 cr

MN547 Preaching in the Urban Context

Dorsey

Participants will explore authentic strategies for preaching and effectively communicating the gospel of Jesus Christ to urban, contemporary hearers. In dialogue with peers and the professor, the participants will reflect on the person of the preacher, examine the urban context, explore the homiletical demands in diverse, city congregations, and incorporate experiential context and theological content in sermons. Participants will explore new strategies for preaching, reflective of their commitment to the biblical text, the urban community, and their personal voice.

MN548 Preaching and the Missional Imagination

Keener.

In recent years there has been an avalanche of literature about what it means to be a missional church. Curiously, so much of this literature is silent on the task of preaching. In many cases, preaching is even seen as a barrier to "going missional." This course will explore the central but often neglected role of Word and Sacrament in leading a church that is seeking to be both missional and Reformed. 1.5 cr

MN551 The Holy Spirit and Christian Worship

Rozeboom

Nothing good transpires apart from the work of the Holy Spirit. Affirming this Triune truth, we will explore together the work of the person of the Holy Spirit, biblically and theologically understood, as it intersects with the movements of Christian worship. A variety of theologians, confessions, and worship resources will be engaged, including those of the Reformed tradition past and present.

MN552 The Worship of Yesterday for Today

Rozeboom

We will listen and look closely to the worship of our brothers and sisters in Christ who have gone before us, perhaps long before us. This will be a socio-archeological pursuit for the refreshment of our understanding of Christian worship and the renewing of our practice of Christian worship today. Elements include Baptism, the Lord's Supper, the Word, prayer, postures, texts, visuals, spatial design: the whole scope of the experience of worship.

MN553 The Church's Common Chord: The History, Theology and Practice of Music in Christian Worship

Rienstra

Students will chart key historical developments in the use of music in worship. They will encounter various theologies of artistic expression, as well as profound theological themes and motifs expressed in hymnody, spirituals and popular songs. Students will learn applied skills such as basic music terminology, using hymnals, evaluating music and shaping repertoire, use of choirs, praise bands and instrumental music, copyright law, amplification concerns, and more. For musicians and non-musicians.

MN554 Preaching the Christian Year

Rienstra

The Christian calendar provides a counter-cultural means for the Church to mark time – i.e., to remember, celebrate, and anticipate. This course will explore how to root preaching not first in our own perceived needs, but in the life and person of Jesus whom we follow. Drawing upon historical and contemporary sources, we will learn about the church year itself – its primary themes, narratives, and moods. Students will then prepare and preach at least three sermons and will prepare a draft preaching calendar with scripture texts and topics for Advent through Ordinary Time.

MN585 Issues in Contemporary and Emerging Worship

Rienstra

Exploration of key issues in present-day liturgical enculturation – i.e., what it means for the church to worship authentically and faithfully in an increasingly postmodern world. We will attend to recent historically significant cultural impulses (e.g. the church growth movement, charismatic movement, liturgical renewal movement, and increasing cultural diversity). Then we will think seriously about the changing use of the arts (music and presentation technology) to express and shape the church's devotion. Thirdly we will explore shifting postmodern paradigms of knowing, praying, and being-in-community in order to see how they affect the central worship practices of the church. As an advanced seminar, students will be expected to bring to the class their own 'issues' – persistent questions, theological themes, favorite authors, etc. – which will significantly influence the direction of study.

MN592 Worship Words: Discipling Language for Faithful Ministry

Rienstra

Carefully examines the role and use of language in worship, looking at Contemporary Worship Music, hymns, prayers, responsive readings, sermons, etc. Students renew appreciation for and understand the beauty and power of words in worship. They become better equipped, by inspiration and weekly exercises, to employ language more intentionally in worship preparation for the greater glory of God and the greater blessing of God's people. Topics include linguistic dimensions of worship, chatter/patter, repetition, puzzle of authenticity, metaphor & figurative language, naming God, song assessment, and the embedded Word. 1.5 cr

MN594 Ancient Future Preaching

T. Brown

A course designed to provide each person with the time and space to explore and evaluate instincts and patterns of preaching in the earliest years of the Christian movement, with a view toward implementing them in the eerily similar social and cultural context(s) in which we find ourselves today.

MN598Preacher as Liturgical Artist

Trygve Johnson

What is an adequate homiletic identity for the preacher in late modernity? The class will seek to reframe a homiletic conversation by focusing on the who, not on the how, of Christian proclamation. We will pay particular attention to understanding ourselves within the assumptions of the cultural moment, as well as looking back over a history of Christian preaching through the lens of homiletic identity— with particular attention to the work of Augustine and Karl Barth. The class will explore how the identity of the Preacher as a Liturgical Artist within a trinitarian framework is a helpful self-identity for today's preacher and will suggest practical ways it can be nurtured and practiced for the life of the preacher.

LEADERSHIP:

MN121 Church Governance and Denominational Standards (required for RCA candidates)

G. Brown, Billings

Within the context of an overall theology of church governance, explores the candidate's specific ecclesiastical tradition (including polity and standards) as a framework for mission. 3 cr

MN450 RCA Polity

G. Brown

A survey of the Book of Church Order and the organizational theory, structure, and function of the Reformed Church in America. 3 cr (MFCA)

MN501 Multicultural Ministry: Theory and Practice

Dorsev

This course examines the paradigms, practices, and challenges of multicultural ministry with a particular focus on urban contexts. We begin the course by looking at biblical and theological paradigms related to multiculturalism followed by an examination of the role of race, ethnicity and cultural specificity in adhesion and tension within communities of faith. In the second half of the course we work toward understanding the intersections between multicultural realities and practical aspects of Christian ministry within the church.

MN505 Leadership Development for Missional Congregational Ministry

Explores the integration of biblical hermeneutics, congregational leadership, and ministry practices. Focuses initially on the redemptive story arc of scripture as it informs community missional developments, followed by specific attention to congregational ministry initiatives, assessments, and outcomes.

MN510 Foundations for Church Planting

Hunsberger

Initiatives for planting new churches arise from particular notions about why it should be done, how it should be done, and what the outcome should look like. Such visions are diverse, and often unconsciously or uncritically assumed. This course examines what is at stake theologically and sociologically with particular choices regarding rationale, method, and aim. It culminates for each student in a position paper articulating a philosophy of church planting to which his or her sense of call corresponds. 1.5 cr.

MN521-DL Practicing Trust in the Church

Blodget

In this course on ministry ethics, we will learn how communities of faith and their leaders can better practice trust. Our premises will be that healthy and prudent trust is indispensable to communities of faith, and that many of the moral problems that plague them relate to trust: lack of trustworthiness, failures in trust, or trust imprudently bestowed. This course will not only focus on the ethical behavior or character of leaders but also the ethics of faith communities. All people of faith, leaders and followers alike, play some role in creating a culture of trust or, conversely, a culture of distrust. This course therefore assumes that trust is a practice of faith to be shared by all. Topics will include: secrecy, confidentiality, gossip, truthtelling, and clergy misconduct. 1.5 cr

MN525 Power and Authority

Small

Power and Authority are theological claims and sociological phenomena constantly at work in the life of the church, generally, and the pastoral vocation, specifically. Inherent to the church as "life together" are the ongoing negotiations of conferring authority (legitimacy) and exerting power (influence). This seminar course will examine power and authority biblically, theologically, and sociologically in expectation of deepening one's understanding and practice of pastoral leadership.

MN546 Ministry in the Urban Context

Leadership training for ministry in the urban context is the goal of this class. Areas of exploration will include administration, spirituality, self-care, youth ministry, evangelism, and the integration of theology and practice of ministry for the urban context.

MN570-DL Worldview, Power & Desire: Exploring the Matrix of Congregational Leadership

Brouwer

We will survey a number of primary options in defining life and faith, and come to understand more fully how these present both opportunities and challenges for providing meaningful leadership in churches. We will read two great books, engage in stimulating conversations, and write several short reflective papers. 1.5 cr

MN589Reformed Church in America Studies

An intensive study of the history and life of the Reformed Church in America (RCA). Different instructors teach a four module sequence including RCA Polity, RCA Standards, RCA History & Mission, and RCA Worship. Completing the modules prepares candidates for ministry in the RCA, for successful completion of classis examinations, and for full participation in the life of the denomination. 9 cr

Formation for Ministry

FR101 Retreat for Christian Formation (J-Term)

Staff

A spiritual retreat using autobiography, peer engagement, and the spiritual disciplines to assist students in clarifying and embracing God's call upon their lives. 1.5 cr

FR111 Intercultural Immersion Experience (J-Term)

Provides cognitive and experiential knowledge of the global character of the church's witness and mission in North America and around the world, with concern for the problems and opportunities posed by cultural differences, secularism, social fragmentation, religious pluralism, and ecumenism. 1.5 cr

FR116-DL Entering and Exploring Christian Ministry

Staff

This unit explores the elements of fruitful theological field education, the context for ministry is understood and the management of tasks and people for ministry is reviewed. 1.5 cr

FR117-DL Engaging Christian Ministry I FR118-DL Engaging Christian Ministry II

FR119-DL Engaging Christian Ministry III

Staff

Students write a learning covenant with a ministry focus that will further explore and deepen their sense of calling. 1.5 cr

FR121 Entering Christian Ministry

Staff

Students are assigned to a teaching church setting and are introduced to the dimensions of theological field education 1.5 cr

FR122 Exploring Christian Ministry

Staff

Continuing the journey in formation for ministry, students explore basic ministerial tasks centered in congregational life. (However, many of these are transferable to any ministry or social service agency.) Exploring aspects of ministry with the help of pastor(s) and lay leaders facilitates clarity around the student's call to ministry. Students learn and grow to appreciate these service elements of ministry that are often unseen but essential for effective Christian ministry. There are three components: the Teaching Church (a supervised ministry setting), a peer group commitment, and course assignments. 1.5 cr

FR123 Engaging Christian Ministry

Staff

Students are given the opportunity to engage deeply in a ministry competency they are passionate about or have been longing to explore. After being sagely directed into the practice of Christian ministry in FR121 and 122; students embrace their learning in this self-directed opportunity in a ministry setting. Each student designs a learning covenant with a mentor focusing on a ministry area such as: Preaching and Worship, Leadership and Administration, Evangelism, Social Justice/Advocacy, Education and Faith Formation, Pastoral Care or Cross-cultural Competency. Both FR123 and 124 are completed in one semester in an internship commitment of 100 hours. 1 cr

FR124 Leading Christian Ministry

Staff

Students write a learning covenant with a ministry focus that will further explore and deepen their sense of calling and understanding of pastoral leadership. 1.5 cr

FR125 Advanced Practice of Christian Ministry

Staff

This 400-hour full-time supervised ministry experience requires the student to exercise a wide range of ministerial skills at the highest personal, professional, and pastoral levels. This requirement may be satisfied in a number of settings including participation in Clinical Pastoral Education, parachurch ministries, cross-cultural ministries, and congregational ministry. Due to the significant level of ministerial and educational investment, it is highly recommended that the student invest time in a discernment process with the Formation for Ministry office before selecting a placement. This learning experience will be evaluated by the student, a supervising mentor, and a lay support committee. 3 cr

FR126 Pastoral Learning Project I FR127 Pastoral Learning Project II

Staff

To deepen their pastoral leadership identity and skills, students will be required to organize a ministry project in their context that includes recruiting a planning taskforce, identifying a ministry activity for which there is consensus, securing funding and then implementing a ministry plan. 1.5 cr

FR129 Formation Capstone Project (IR students)

Staff

To deepen their pastoral leadership identity and skills, students will be required to organize a ministry project in their context that includes recruiting a planning taskforce, identifying a ministry activity for which there is consensus, securing funding and then implementing a ministry plan. 1.5 cr

FR130 Embedded Internship I FR131 Embedded Internship II

This ministry internship places the WTS-Newbigin student in an urban ministry setting that gives the student the opportunity to exercise a wide range of ministerial skills. The student will work three-quarters time (approximately 400 hrs in a 14 week semester) in ministry practice and one-quarter time (approximately 15-20 hrs in a semester) in ongoing academic coursework. Integration of the ministry experiences, the coursework, and mentoring from both a seasoned urban pastor and a gifted church planter will be a strong feature of the embedded internship. The two years of the internship will track specific learning outcomes in ministry readiness.

FR132 Pastoral Learning Project I and Training Seminar FR133 Pastoral Learning Project II and Training Seminar

This one-week intensive course is designed as a resource for students in their two years of internship placement. Students will identify a particular project that will help them achieve a ministry goal. They will work on those projects during the internship and then share them and their outcomes with peers in the intensive. Faculty will observe students' ministry formation and will assist students in focusing on strategies for growth. 1.5 cr

Master of Theology Courses

MT210 Orientation Seminar

Beagley

Introduces the Th.M. program by forming a "community of scholars" in which scholarly reflection on intercultural issues is engaged. Creates new configurations of self-understanding for theological reflection in community and introduces the philosophy, format, and thesis requirements of the Th.M. program. Meets annually during the last two weeks in August. 1.5 credits.

MT220 Research Design

Brownson

Assists the Th.M. students in the preparation of a thesis proposal by introducing the basics of academic research and writing. By the end of the course the student 1) will be able to construct a well-designed research proposal; 2) will be familiar with basic strategies and tools for research and academic writing; and 3) will plan a research strategy for writing a Th.M. research paper or thesis. Meets monthly during the first semester. 1 credit.

MT230 Seminar in Cultural Analysis

Dorsey

Develops theoretical orientations and methodological skills for contextual analysis with three foci: sociological, cultural, and psychological. Meets during the first half of the first semester. 1.5 credits.

MT240 Seminar in Theology and Its Contexts

Madison

Explores issues surrounding the cultural embeddedness of theology. Examines how the idea of "context" is related to debates about theological method and considers how to understand the relationships between theology and the Holy Spirit, the "culture" of the church, and the larger cultures in which we find ourselves. Meets during the second half of the first semester. 1.5 credits. Prerequisite: MT230.

MT250 Seminar in Intercultural Hermeneutics

Explores and applies methodologies for the interpretation of Scripture in intercultural contexts and addresses the interaction of gospel and culture in intercultural dialogue. Meets during the January-term. 1.5 credits. Prerequisites: MT230, MT240.

MT253 Comprehensive Exam

A faculty advisor and a faculty colleague, in consultation with the candidate, assign discipline and thesis-related bibliographies. The lists reflect the major contributors to a particular discipline, the methodological issues involved in that discipline, and the current questions or debates among scholars in that discipline most relevant to the thesis topic. The exam is given at the end of May and has two components: a two-hour written examination conducted by the Th.M. Director and a 45-minute oral examination conducted by an examination committee.

MT255 Independent Research

In the event that courses critical to a Th.M. candidate's program are unavailable within current curriculum offerings, the candidate may request one independent study in a particular field of inquiry within the chosen focus area. It may be done only with the consent of a professor who provides guidance and evaluation and only with the approval of the Academic Dean. It may combine course materials from a required M.Div. course with additional independent work, at the professor's discretion.

MT260 Thesis

A major research paper, which builds upon and extends in a focused area the knowledge and critical ability gained in the basic divinity degree, and includes the Th.M. coursework. The topic and plan are subject to the approval of the Th.M. Committee. The candidate's Faculty Advisor, in conjunction with a Second Reader, provides guidance for the research. 6 credits.

MT260A Research Paper

A major research paper, which builds upon and extends in a focused area the knowledge and critical ability gained in the basic divinity degree, and includes the Th.M. coursework. The topic and plan are subject to the approval of the Th.M. Committee. The candidate's Faculty Advisor, in conjunction with a Second Reader, provides guidance for the research. 3 credits.
